

Tony Tribbitt and Brandi Williams have launch the "Tripp and B" tour to not only change the city of Memphis in Memphis, TN, but to motivate the world to jump into their dreams and slide into success. The two have been touring the country inspiring children and adults to turn situations into positive ones. Tribbitt and Williams have been advocates for adolescents for over 10 years using the art of music and dance, while giving them hope for a brighter future.

The "Tripp and B" Tour consist of Tribbitt, Williams, and the many lives that have been and will be touched. The tour kicked off in Memphis, TN with several performing arts programs, majorette dance teams, and local restaurants. Growing up in Memphis, they have seen many forms of violence. Through the art of dance and music, they have been able to reach many adolescents and go into many communities to raise awareness to stop violence. They plan to encourage the community to follow their dreams. Tripp was told as a kid laughter cures pain. Therefore, dance brings happiness, happiness creates laughter, and laughter cures pain.

As they endorse and publicly approve the local businesses, entrepreneurs have "slid" into greater success and "jumped" into the hope of having a prosperous future. There have been many supporters nationally to book "Tripp and B" for performances and speaking engagements.

The duo has been requested to perform, travel, and continue showcasing positivity. This sponsorship has been created to grant the "Tripp and B" and staff the opportunity to perform, transform, and insipre communities across the country.
